Cyberspace and Accounting

21.11.2016

On November 21, 2016, another conference from the Accounting Forum series at SGH took place. The main theme of this Forum is Cyberspace and Accounting.

During the third Accounting Forum at SGH, issues and problems related to the impact of digitization on accounting were considered.

In particular, the following issues were discussed:

- changes in the area of collection and processing of financial and non-financial information in the accounting system,*
- risk areas for the accounting system of business entities operating in the vicinity of cyberspace,*
- examples of intentional and unintentional actions related to the use and modification of the system and data revealing in cyberspace were discussed. and their micro and macroeconomic consequences.*

The aim of the conference was also to present research areas and to diagnose scientific challenges related to cyberspace and financial information systems for economics, management, finance and accounting.
